BIOS LOCK ENCODE/DECODE DRIVER

Abstract of the Disclosure

Systems and methods for preventing the unauthorized access to data stored on removable media, such as software, include storing a predetermined signature in the area of non-volatile memory in a computer system. Upon initialization of the computer system, a check is made to verify the signature. Only if the signature is verified will decoding software operate.

10

S:\DOCS\REC\REC-3913.DOC
061500